2012 Itinerant Music Lessons: Levy and Regulations

Your son has expressed an interest in receiving vocal or instrumental tuition at Auckland Grammar School this year. All students are required to pay a music lesson levy of $100 for the year. Students wishing to take two different instruments (including voice) must pay $100 for each.

This levy is to cover the cost of materials, facilities and for purchasing teaching resource material and ensemble music. It will not cover any specific tutor books required for lessons. It also assists with the upkeep and replacement of instruments. As we see this is a commitment to have lessons for the entire year, this fee will not be refunded if your boy ceases lessons during the year. To ensure continuation of lessons, please pay before the end of February. A Progress Report will be sent home at the end of each term.

There are several rules connected with Itinerant Lessons:

1. Absences from a lesson must be excused. Let the teacher know by note or in person before the lesson. Often lesson times can be rescheduled to avoid clashing with tests or trips. If necessary because of illness, leave a telephone message with the Music Staff. Students who miss more than TWO lessons without a valid excuse are likely to be refused further lessons.
2. All students having instrumental lessons at school are expected to play, if required, in one of the school instrumental groups. Those learning singing are expected to sing in a school choir. Students, who do not participate in these groups as required will not be able to continue lessons.
3. Students are expected to practise regularly.
